Dear Member

To ensure the energy and utilities sector has a skilled, knowledgeable and qualified workforce, Energy & Utility Skills is facilitating a review of the Gas Industry Modern Apprenticeship (MA) Scotland.

Employers, training providers and professional bodies are invited to be involved in the next stage of the review. As an employer within the gas industry, we would welcome your feedback via an online consultation, please click here for access. The consultation closes at 5pm on Monday 13 January 2020.

To ensure that the updated Modern Apprenticeship captures what currently is considered best practice in the sector, we encourage professionals to participate in the online consultation which will be available until the date indicated above.
